EDMONTON DELEGATES ENJOY SLEIGH RIDE

Calgary Streets Covered With Snow and Delegates to Missionary Convention Take the Morning Off

(Special to the Capital.)
Calgary, Oct. 25.—Five of the Edmonton delegates to the Laymen's Missionary convention in this city, were not so impressed with the seriousness of their mission that they could not have some innocent fun this morning.

Emerging from the sleeper and finding the streets of the southern city covered with snow, the sight of the beautiful snowed all their latent boyhood spirits. A two-seated cutter was secured from a nearby livery, harnesses and a splendid pair of greys, and exchanging their flannel coats for coats skins and fur gauds, they drove through the principal streets wrapped in heavy buffalo robes, with jingling bells, making music in the morning air.

The people, hurrying to business and to their work, saw the joke and entered into it with hearty spirit. A photograph was taken.

The party consisted of Messrs. Macraeth and Bulchait, with Reverends McQueen, Hume and Hinchison.

COMMITTEE RESUMES LABORS THIS WEEK

Senator Lorimer's Enemies Trying to Prove That He Was Elected Through Illegal Methods—Committee Has Gathered a Mass of Testimony, Pro and Con

Washington, Oct. 24.—Among the political productions billed for an early revival is the case of William Lorimer, United States senator from Illinois, which is scheduled for resumption in Chicago about the middle of this coming week.

When the Lorimer investigation committee took a recess shortly before the adjournment of the extraordinary session of congress last August, it had only partly completed its inquiry into the circumstances of the alleged bribery and fraud in connection with Senator Lorimer's election. Chairman Dillingham will call his committee together, to continue the taking of testimony, of which there is much more of importance to be heard.

A large part of the evidence at the protracted hearings here last summer related only indirectly to the charges against the junior Illinois senator, it being obtained more particularly to an effort to obtain some information in regard to the mysterious $100,000 fund which was alleged to have been collected and expended in the interest and behalf of Senator Lorimer to give him his election. Days and weeks were spent, and a score of witnesses were heard in an attempt to find some clew which would lead to a disclosure of the fact concerning this alleged fund.

The evidence went round in a circle, however, and when the subject was temporarily laid aside, the committee had little if any more information concerning it than when it started. There was simply the statement of one man that another man had told him of such a fund, and the denial of the other man that he had said any such thing, or that there was such a fund, and a lot of collateral and generally irrelevant testimony. In fact, the first few weeks of the hearing concerned Edward Hars, the Illinois Chicago lumberman and Lorimer, for more than it did the election of Lorimer to the senate.

It was only toward the close of the hearing here that there was taken any testimony regarding alleged vote buying and selling in the interests of Lorimer and even that was largely a repetition of what was taken at the first Lorimer investigation by the senate committee, and again by the committee of the Illinois state senate. There remains much evidence to be taken respecting the transactions in votes in the Illinois legislature, told of by Charles White, former member of the legislature who was first to expose the corruption in the legislature with particular reference to the election of Senator Lorimer.

After that, Senator Lorimer will be given an opportunity to offer whatever evidence he desires to refute the charges and statements which have been made against him. While the proceedings have not been conducted in the manner of a case tried in court, but

ENGLISH BARRISTER TALKS OF POLITICS

PROMINENT UNIONIST OF LONDON
TELLS CAPITAL THAT CHURCHILL IS A "BUTTERFLY"

Commenting on the recently announced changes in the British cabinet, whereby Winston Spencer Churchill, former secretary of state for the home department, becomes first Lord of the Admiralty, while Reginald McKenna lays down the Admiralty portfolio to become home secretary, A. Mervyn White, a prominent Unionist barrister of London, England, who is spending a few days in Edmonton, told a Capital reporter yesterday that the change has been brought about owing to Churchill's policy of almost incessant interference in matters that in public opinion should have been left to his staff. Mr. White cited as an instance of this, Churchill's action during the St. Stephen street riot when—three guardsmen were hounded for some time in an old house. On that occasion Churchill ordered the military out to clear the house and he himself directed the fight from the street corner.

Another instance of his unwarranted interference was noted at the time of the strikes in South Wales at Tonypandy. Then again, the course he pursued during the recent strike on English railways constituted another chapter in the history of his unwarranted interference with the business of the people in England, and according to Mr. White all these things have worked to make the change from the home secretaryship to the admiralty imperative.

"If Premier Asquith resigns as he is likely to do, the leadership of the government undoubtedly will fall to Lloyd George," said Mr. White. Lloyd George is popular with the masses of the people in England. He is a strong leader and is generally regarded as being responsible for the recent settlement of the strike in England this summer.

"On the other hand," he continued, "Churchill has proven himself to be a failure as a political leader. This was demonstrated about a year ago when in the absence of Premier Asquith and Lloyd George, both of whom were ill, he attempted to lead the house of commons. The session continued till 3 a.m. and broke up in disorder."

Mr. White said that in the event of Asquith's resignation he stands a good chance of becoming Lord High Chancellor. His ambitions are said to be in that direction.

With Mr. White on his trip through Western Canada are John W. Edgington, F. R. Proctor, of the real estate firm of Mason, McFarlane and Proctor, of Vancouver, and L. Taylor. Mr. Edgington is a prominent Englishman who has travelled extensively through Western Canada studying conditions here. He visited Edmonton early in the summer.

John Sharp Williams, formerly Democratic leader of the house, and now United States senator from Mississippi, has announced his intention to resign for the presidential nomination.

THE ONTARIO SYSTEM OF MAKING A LAW... Ontario, the premier province of the Dominion, and at the same time the richest and the home of the greatest number of industrial workers, is just commencing to realize that in the matter of legislation which affects the army of workers who produce the country's wealth, they have overlooked an obligation.

Ontario's awakening takes the form of an agitation for a workmen's compensation act and a commission has been appointed to go into the question of compensation and report to the legislature. Of this commission the Toronto Globe, under the heading of "A Real Compensation Act," says:

Sir William Meredith, who for over a year has been conducting an inquiry on behalf of the Ontario Government into the subject of compensation for workmen injured sustained in the course of their employment, proposes to hold a public sitting in the parliament buildings next Monday, when all persons desiring it will be heard. The opportunity should be taken by the labor unions of this city to urge a fundamental change in the law. The time is ripe for such a remodeling of the statute as will make it unnecessary for workmen to fight for compensation in the courts. The money spent in litigation by employers, employees, and accident insurance corporations would provide a fund large enough, if supplemented by a reasonable grant from the Provincial Treasury, to provide for a provincial accident insurance system that would put an end to litigation.

There is no tragedy in our social relationships today more pitiful than that of a crippled workman or the widow of a soldier in the army of industry who has "fallen in battle" fighting in the courts against powerful corporations for enough to keep body and soul together, and frequently falling on some technicality. Sir William Meredith is a jurist, but he is also a humane man, and we hope he will see his way to advise that workmen's compensation in Ontario be made a matter depending on citizenship and not upon the uncertainties of a law suit. This provision is behind the most successful compensation laws. A complete contributory system—such as the German one—to which the state, the employer, and the employee would be parties, would be far better for the workman and probably better for the employer, than the present, which yields the maximum of litigation for the minimum of compensation.

The commission idea is characteristic of the Ontario method of producing legislation. The incontrovertibility, one would suppose, of the premises that an industry should bear the cost of its own risks and casualties would be apparent to any normal mind, and to settle this phase of the compensation no commission should be necessary. In fact, any more than a plain statement of the proposition would be superfluous. Accepting this as a matter of fact, which is what the Alberta government did when the matter came up to them for legislation, there is nothing left to do but to frame the act. And even in this Ontario should need no commission. By sending a stenographer to the nearest law library with instructions to take from the statutes of the province of Alberta the compensation act which was enacted by the legislature of this province, substituting only the name "Ontario" where the name "Alberta" occurs, Ontario would get the best compensation act on the continent of North America, or, for that matter, in the world.

With the Alberta law to copy from, the Ontario commission is wasteful and ridiculous e-cess.

INFORMATION WANTED ON THE WATER QUESTION

The water question is insistent and will not down. The city engineer offers a scheme to pump water to the summit of the Rabbit Hills, there filter it and allow it to flow by gravity back to the city, furnishing a gravity supply supplied by pumping. Other parties offer the Pigeon Lake scheme. Reports have been made on both. But to a very large extent the public is still in the dark. Admitting, as everyone does, that the present facilities are unsatisfactory and are certain to very soon become inadequate, if not contaminated, there are a few leading questions which should be answered. In the first place, what is the relative cost of the two proposals? How much permanency is there about either one? How long would it take to build? Can the city depend on the purity of a supply taken from the river? And has Pigeon Lake enough water to justify the city presuming that it will be a sufficient source of supply when our population has reached the figures which it is believed it will, say, fifty years from now?

Until these questions are answered the water question is not properly before the ratepayers.

GOVERNMENT SHOULD EXERCISE ITS AUTHORITY. And now comes the report from Taber that the farmers here are unable to get cars to ship their grain. From which it may be presumed that if there are not sufficient cars to ship the grain there certainly are not enough to forward the coal, even were there coal to forward.

Which means that with winter almost upon us, settlers in the prairie country who have not already a supply of coal have very little chance of getting any. Undoubtedly there will be suffering in the south country this winter.

The government invited - the settlers to come to the country. The government handed the coal over to the companies whose business it is to supply the settlers with fuel. The government is under a moral obligation to see to it that the settlers get coal. If the coal companies fail in their part of the implied contract and the railways fail to furnish the transportation facilities the time has arrived when the government should exercise its authority to provide the settlers with coal.

Coal, ore, oil, natural gas, minerals in close proximity. Low rate taxation 13.7 mills; $500,000 new wealth realized by tributary area this year.

Over a hundred wholesale and commission houses in the city. Fourteen banks and three loan companies. Municipally owned industrial sites for lease with option of purchase.

BUILDING GROWTH 1909, $2,128,166; 1910, $2,159,106; 1911 (for seven months), $2,050,690. Entire year estimated, $4,000,000.

POPULATION 1905, 9,200; 1906, 14,000; 1907, 18,000; 1908, 20,000; 1909, 23,000; 1910, 25,000; 1911, 28,000.

ASSESSMENTS 1911, $46,484,740; 1910, $30,105,110; 1909, $25,584,307; 1908, $21,985,700; 1907, $21,985,700; 1906, $21,985,700; 1905, $21,985,700; 1904, $21,985,700; 1903, $21,985,700; 1902, $21,985,700; 1901, $21,985,700.

FORECAST At the present rate of development and growth Edmonton will have a population of 100,000 in 1915 and an assessed valuation of $130,000,000. Its street railway mileage will be 90 miles; paved streets and boulevards, 70 miles; 200 miles of sewers; 250 miles of water mains. Edmonton is growing faster than it can be polished, it is young and rough, but three years will witness a most remarkable development.

Establish yourself in Edmonton now, get busy, grow with the city and make your fortune.

IMPERIAL BANK IS SCORED BY ALDERMEN

City Will Demand One Per Cent. Refund on Monies Due As Interest--Bank Has Not Paid for Bonds Purchased Some Time Ago

Strathcona, Oct. 25.—Why the Imperial bank, the purchaser of Strathcona's 1911 issue of debentures, delays making payment on the bonds, although this payment has been long expected, is a question that the city council would like to have explained. The council has been asked to let the bank immediately to request from the bank the amount of 1 per cent. refund on the monies to be paid over by the city in interest.

Alfred Vessell, a member of the council, stated that the Imperial bank, in a situation which kept the city paying 6 per cent. interest upon monies borrowed upon the bonds, was not doing its duty. He had already pointed out the situation to the representative of the bank, "the very business on the part of the bank," remarked the mayor, "I don't think many business concerns would stand much treatment of this nature from bond purchasers." The council has decided that the situation of affairs should be cleared up. The council has decided that the situation of affairs should be cleared up. The council has decided that the situation of affairs should be cleared up.

Start Hospital Basement.
The standing promise that work on the new municipal hospital will start this fall was fairly well checked by a motion of Alderman Richards to the effect that tenders for the construction of the basement at the new institution, "this motion carried in the wake of a report of Alderman Vessell, stating that Architect Starns estimated that $100,000 should include everything required at the hospital except some of the lighter equipment.

An application of George Brown to move their building now occupied by the East End Meat market, a few feet further east to their own property, was granted after some discussion. The firm promised to somewhat improve the building until such time as a substantial business block can be erected by them. While somewhat in contravention to the building regulations it was thought that the slight change in location would in no wise increase the fire hazard of that particular section of the street.

A tender was on hand from the J. Watson company, offering to construct the new walls and reinforcements at the better room of the power plant for the sum of $1,700. Council felt that this price was high but in the absence of the city engineer no figures could be had from city officials. The tender was considered so urgent that it was referred to the chairman of the fire and light and water and sewer committees with power to act.

The Edmonton Milling company wrote enquiring about their recent application for damages for the loss of 12 horses over the cut bank along Saskatchewan avenue, and for the trespass of one trunk sewer line over the firm's property along the river. No report was ready as the matter was held over.

Sewer Machine Quits.
J. G. Smart was again to the fore with an offer to sell the city a portion of his property for lane purposes at a price of $375. The trouble was turned over to the mayor and secretary-treasurer for discussion and neither appeared to relish the job before them.

Alderman Bradford informed council that the sewer trench machine was laid off for the remainder of the season. It could not be made to work satisfactorily. The water line trencher is being worked where possible and will be put on sewer extension work as soon as possible. Mr. Armstrong of the Munley company, sold its efforts to being spared to secure more work for their contract here and they expected to have the work crowded along rapidly. The discussion was brought up by a letter from Messrs. Marks and

Robinson asking for water and sewer to their new houses in Garneau addition.

The Gable and McCulloch company wrote asking for a payment on machinery shipped some three years ago. Secretary Cox reported that four cars of material have arrived and that he had to pay $1200 in freight charges on the lot. Under the contract the company are to receive 50 per cent. of the purchase price upon date of shipment, but he felt that the freight charges should be deducted from the payment before forwarding it. This was the opinion of the council on the matter.

Could Have Great Park.
A plan was to hand from the C.P.R. referring to some proposed minor alterations in the grade at this end of the high level bridge.

In an informal way Alderman Tipton explained why the parks committee recommended that the proposed extension of Allen Park sites should be made as outlined by the Canadian Investment company. He wanted the council to consider the value of six blocks offered as he considered it almost likely for future park purposes. The present park consists of but two blocks. The small lake in the proposed new location he thought could be made into a pleasure resort without great expenditure.

On application from Jas. Gallacher and Alderman Vessell it was decided that the public works committee shall be asked to open and improve as much as possible the streets in River Park and River Heights.

Accounts to the total of $12,966.11 were ordered paid.

The request of Hon. A. C. Rutherford to have the old road across Mill Creek shifted to conform with the subdivision survey in Pointe Beane was granted.

In Outrage Says the Mayor.
Alderman Richards, though some attention should be given by the public works department to Main Street south, once paying is now out of the question for this fall. Mayor Davies looked up the matter sternly. "This is an outrage that this main street should be left with so little done on it during all these years. There is probably not another street in the west which can show such a heavy assessment with so little to show for it in the way of improvements. If this matter is not taken up by the public works department very shortly, I intend leaving the clear road south some considerable evening to save them a piece of my opinion."

Not one member of the north side says too part in the deliberation last night. The south side chairs accompanied the meeting which did the business. Those present were Mayor Davies, Alderman Richards, Tipton, Bradford and Vessell.

The council adjourned to meet again Friday night.

STRATHCONA TAX SALE NOVEMBER 24

CITIZENS ACROSS THE RIVER ARE RAISING TAX MONEY AND LITTLE LAND WILL BE SOLD.

Strathcona, Oct. 25.—November will be the month in which will occur the first sale of lands in the city for arrears of taxes and Friday the 24th will be the date. An advertisement to this effect has been published by the officials, and unless previously returned the hundreds of lots now listed as liable for sale will go under the auctioneer's hammer during the forenoon of the above date. The sale opens at 10 o'clock.

Assessor Fairweather estimates that the redemption between now and the date of sale will be very heavy, and he expects to see about $100,000 worth of arrears put up on the day of the sale. When it is remembered that the arrears of some few short months ago amount above $70,000 to the 100 limit, it is really unexpected that the majority of the delinquents were able to meet the situation once it took definite and threatening shape.

In spite of this great pressure for the collection of the arrears the ratepayers are coming forward with the current year's taxes as never before at this season of the year. While last year the receipts to date amounted to but $9,000 the total now reaches above the $92,000 mark and the assessor and assistants are almost overwhelmed with the rush of property owners taking advantage of the first 5 per cent. rebate which expires on November 1st.

VERY SHORT SESSION OF DOMINION HOUSE

WILL SIT FOR ONLY A MONTH AND THEN ADJOURN UNTIL END OF FEBRUARY.

Ottawa, Oct. 25.—It is said to be practically certain that the session of Parliament, which will open on November 15, will be a short one. The houses will sit for a little over a month, and then prorogue. A second session will be called for the latter part of February or early in March.

The speechmaking tour soon to be undertaken by Senator La Peltre in furtherance of his presidential aspirations will last six or eight weeks and will embrace the Dakotas, Minnesota, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, Missouri, Oklahoma, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Mississippi and probably Ohio.

Senator C. O. Hays has resigned his position as registrar of the land office at Rapid City to make the race for the Republican nomination for governor of South Dakota.

ITALY INVITES MILITARY FLARE-UP

EXTENDING HER OPERATIONS MAY KINDLE TREMENDOUS CONFLAGRATION IN THE BALKANS

(Special to the Capital)

London, Oct. 21.—The "Daily Telegraph's" Vienna correspondent says that whether Italy by merely extending her military operations will unwittingly or unwittingly, kindle a tremendous conflagration in the Balkan Peninsula is the burning question which preoccupies the leading European statesmen. They are anxious about Albania, writhing about Persia, apprehensive of what may happen in Smyrna or Salonika. They see the door thrown wide open by the Marquis di San Giuliano to a chance occurrence, any side of which may result in irreparable disaster. An outbreak, for example, against Italians in any Turkish vilayet, accompanied, as it probably would be, by deeds of violence and brutality against defenceless Italian women, would thwart in a twinkling the best schemes of diplomacy to put an end to the hostilities and re-establish peace. The Italian fleet might retaliate by dispatching warships against Salonika or Smyrna, and it is not impossible that Austria would tolerate reprisals up to a certain point. But she would certainly veto military operations nearer to Albania.

None of these contingencies, however, is probable. The real danger lurks elsewhere. The Balkan league was set rolling when Italy declared war against Turkey, and it may well prove to be the nucleus of a destructive avalanche. All that one can at present do is to wait and observe what effects are produced by a cause which cannot now be rendered inoperative. That cause may subvert the Turkish Empire, and bring about that hopeless chaos for which the great powers have for decades been exerting willing and laboriously prepared, but which, for some among them, would be most inopportune today. The new Grand Vizier, whatever his political arrangements may be, is the nominee of the Committee of Union and Progress, and the committee is becoming exceedingly unpopular in the country. Its name is associated with the vicissitudes of the Ottoman Empire, the expansion of the Turkish race from Africa, and the humiliation of the Moslem religion in the eyes of the world. However, Italy's recent procedure may be to incite criticism, it cannot be said that it was the Turkish committee of Union and Progress which gratuitously furnished the handle for the axe which the Italian are now using to undermine the rule of the most Mohammedan of the Moslem Majesties.

And all political Turkey regards this notorious fact as a crime, and is making ready to chastise those who are responsible for it. Austria, whose relations towards Italy, under Count Tisza's conciliatory government, had become more cordial than at any time since the creation of the Triple Alliance, displayed her friendship for her ally and also for Turkey by earnestly advising the Porte to abandon a policy of efficacy against Italians in Tripoli. Over and over again the Porte was made aware of the baleful consequences which a persistence in a policy of insult and injury would sooner or later engender. The Sultan's ministers, however, and all the protégés of the committee of Union and Progress, turned a deaf ear to these friendly representations and salutary admonitions. And now the reciprocity of evil has come true. The committee and its friends, having sown the wind, must reap the whirlwind. Peace must be concluded by their nominees under their direction. No other party will consent to sign away the most orthodox vilayet in the Ottoman empire.

Pitifully aware of this appalling necessity, the Young Turks are moving the powers to obtain peace on terms which would concede the actual possession and administration of Tripoli to Italy, but reserve the nominal sovereignty to the sultan. Now, no Italian government would, or could, conclude peace on this condition. They and all Europe know too well what significance is attached in Turkey even to the faintest simulacrum of sovereignty left to the sultan. They have not forgotten Bosnia, which, although Austrian for thirty years, was still regarded as a Turkish province when Count Archduke Francis Ferdinand's fatal visit to plain lands, declared it to be an integral part of the dual monarchy. And they also hear vividly in mind the leech-like tenacity with which Turkey clings to Crete, from which she has long been severed. Italy, therefore, at the present conjuncture, cannot be expected to assent to any terms but the absolute annexation of Tripoli.

On the other hand, the Young Turk party, whose policy has led directly to this national disaster, whose open and dishonest disregard of friendly warnings, and rejected helpful advice, and whose instinct of self-preservation will now move it to sign away the Moslem province, can have little hope to survive. It has palmed its part, but Hamilton has no serious chances of being ever being re-established. Unless the party represented by Colonel Zaidi Bey in Constantinople, and by Kemal Pasha and Sherif Pasha in Paris, can save the country from the consequences of the Young Turk blunders, the chaos may be become so hopeless and intolerable that the foreign powers must intervene. Then Europe will be in the throes of that tremendous crisis which Austria-Hungary has been systematically and persistently laboring to ward off. There lies the most formidable and imminent danger of the present situation.

TO MY SUCCESSOR

(By Louis E. Thayer.)

Here is a toast that I want to drink to a fellow I'll never know—
To the fellow who's going to take my place when it's time for me to go.
I've wondered what kind of a chap he'll be and I've wished I could take his hand.

Just to whisper, "I wish you well, old man," in a way that he'd understand.
I'd like to give him the cheering word that I've longed at times to hear;
I'd like to give him the warm handshake when never a friend seems near.
I've learned my knowledge by sheer hard work, and I wish I could pass it on.
To the fellow who'll come to take my place some day when I am gone.

Will he see all the sad mistakes I've made and note all the battles lost?
Will he ever guess of the tears they caused or the heartaches which they cost?
Will he gaze through the failures and fruitless toil to the underlying plan,
And catch a glimpse of the real intent and the heart of the vanquished man?
I dare to hope his may pause some day as he tells as I have wrought,
And gain some strength for his weary task from the battles which I have fought.

But I've only the task itself to leave with the cares for him to face,
And never a cheering word may speak to the fellow who'll take my place.

Then here's to your health, old chap! I drink as a bridegroom to his bride—
I leave an unfinished task for you, but God knows how I tried,
I've dreamed my dreams as all men do, but never a one came true,
And my prayer today is that all the dreams may be realized by you.
And we'll meet some day in the great unknown—out in the realm of space,
You'll know my class as I take your hand and gaze in your tired face.
Then all our failures will be success in the light of the new found dawn—
So I'm drinking your health, old chap, who'll take my place when I am gone.

FAILED TO PROVE CRUELTY CHARGE

MAN ON TRIAL FOR FAILING TO SUMMON DOCTOR FOR CHILD IS ACQUITTED

After a trial which took up the greater portion of the day, Justice Simons and a jury with causing the death of the eleven-year-old child, by his failure to call in medical aid when the girl was suffering from terrible burns sustained in a domestic accident, was acquitted yesterday afternoon shortly after four o'clock.

From the evidence produced in court it appeared that the parents of the child had not realized the danger in which she had been placed by the accident, and had thought that their own remedies would be adequate to save her life. Neither parent had any conscientious objection to the calling in of a doctor.

Former C. P. R. Conductor Assigned in Supreme Court Today—By Jury

Charged with the theft of fifty cents from the Canadian Pacific railway at a point between Canmore and Wetaskiwin on one of the company's cars, J. H. Walker was this morning assigned in the supreme court before Mr. Justice Simons. W. L. Walsh, K.C. of Calgary, who appeared with T. M. Two-cut of Calgary, as counsel for the accused, applied to have the charge laid under a section which would permit of trial by jury but was unsuccessful in his application. For the crown E. H. Goswami and S. D. Noyes are appearing.

WILL SUPPLY DOMESTICS.

It is possible that correspondence with a firm of looking agents in Glasgow, Scotland, from whom Secretary Fisher of the board of trade received a letter this morning, may solve the problem of domestic servants confronting so many Edmonton housewives at the present time. The organization which is known as the Union Transit company with head office at 391 Argyle street, Glasgow, wrote Mr. Fisher offering to supply any domestic servants that may be required in Edmonton, if details of work and wages are supplied by the prospective employers.

SIXTH SUPREME COURT JUDGE TO BE APPOINTED

The accumulation of arrears of litigation in the supreme court has necessitated the appointment of a sixth judge, and an order in council of the provincial government, authorizing such an appointment has been passed. It is anticipated that W. L. Walsh, K.C. of Calgary will be raised to the bench.

The passage of the order in council will be announced officially in the Alberta Gazette of October 31, which is now in the printer's hands.

JUROR DISQUALIFIED BY CONVERSATION

IS SEVERELY CENSURED BY SIT-TING JUDGE—CHALLENGED BY DEFENCE.

(Western Associated Press.)

Los Angeles, Oct. 25.—A chance street conversation started by W. H. Clark, a chairman in the McNamara murder case with Harry Chandler, vice-president and assistant general manager of the Times Mirror company and son-in-law of General Harrison Gray Otis, publisher of the Los Angeles Times, brought Clark's services as a prospective juror to an abrupt end when he told about it to court last today. Clark was censured by Judge Bordwell for carelessness and promptly excused on a challenge by the defence suggested by the court. Chandler, according to Clark, had hoped the defendant would qualify as a juror. It was said to night that Chandler was held in no way to be responsible for the occurrence so far as the court was concerned. It was stated definitely today that fourteen jurors would hear the McNamara case as jurors. This is possible under California laws which provide in addition to the regular jury that two additional jurors may be qualified in cases where the trial is likely to be of great importance and duration.

These two must be kept with the other twelve having equal opportunities to hear the evidence and in case any regular juror is disqualified through illness or death, the name of one of the two extra jurors is to be drawn from a box and he thereupon replaces the disabled one.

Six jurors temporarily accepted on both sides were in the box but all are subject and liable to preliminary challenge.

CORONATION IN COLOR

New Invention Immensely Enhances Effect of Moving Pictures.

The next best thing to seeing the Coronation itself, is to see it reproduced in Kinemacolor, the latest improvement on the cinematograph.
Last night this really wonderful invention was shown in Edmonton for the first time in the Theatre rink, and called forth admiring comments and united applause from an audience which was enthusiastic from start to finish.

It was quite evident, not only from the large attendance, but from the large waiting people, comforted themselves before the first picture was shown that they expected something unusual. There was a buzz of excited whisperings, followed by a sudden half-awed hush as the opening film came on that must have represented very nearly the exact attitude of the spectators on the Coronation stands in London, who saw the real thing.

Only one adjective could adequately describe the finest of the views—they were superb. The Royal Horse Show at Richmond was first shown, and one could not withhold admiration from the splendid specimens of horse flesh which appeared to the audience as though they were actually being viewed through a window. London street scenes depicted in their natural colors, with the hustle of the traffic looking wonderfully realistic, gave those who had never visited the metropolis of the Empire a most accurate idea of its spaciousness, its immensity, its fine historic buildings, and even its own charming character that they ever had before.

There was a sudden change of scene, and a tumult of applause when the Northwest Mounted Police, were depicted drilling in Lafontaine Park and the enthusiasm was redoubled when the troopers were seen in novel surroundings camped in a London park. The audience was then taken on a tour through the decorated streets to view the Coronation stands the day before the ceremony, following which the "regalia" procession at Westminster Abbey was revealed in all their magnificence the emblems of sovereignty.

But the Coronation procession itself was what the audience was waiting for. When the streets lined with regimental soldiers, between whose files passed representatives of the Empire's nobility and military force were shown the enthusiasm was unbounded. Nothing yet seen on the biograph, has approached the splendor of this reproduction, and the disappointment the audience had was that the pictures were divided into sections like a serial story to be continued next week. The "Watch dogs of the World" were pictured at Spit-head before the great review, which will be on the programme next week, and it may be remarked as an illustration of a rather excessive courtesy to our neighbors across the border that the fondest applause was accorded to a picture of the United States battleship "Delaware," which, to be sure, was the largest warship there. Other examples of the power of the Kinema-color included views of the beautiful Lake of Garda in Northern Italy, and a series entitled "The Birth of Flowers," showing the evolution from bud to blossom.

Though speed variations occasionally lessened the effect, and emotions of voluntes were observable from time to time, nothing but praise, and that to the warmest, can be bestowed on the entire exhibition. The Kinema-color has come to stay, and when one remembers that it is in its infancy there is good ground to believe that the art and travel loving citizens have many hitherto unsuspected picture treats in store.

PLEADS GUILTY.

(Western Associated Press.)
Mason, Mass., Oct. 25.—The sitting of the King's Bench held here this afternoon before Justice Proctor, the case of George Brown, charged with abduction and rape of Mrs. Frank Peterson, formerly Gladys Price, and the attempted murder of William Adams, the Snowflake hotel proprietor, was brought up. Brown refused counsel, pleading guilty on both indictments. It was expected that a charge of attempted suicide would also be brought against Brown, but as no medium was made of it, the charge was evidently dropped. Brown was ordered back to jail, to be brought up for sentence when called for.

On November 10th, the price of the shares of the Edmonton Portland Cement Co., Ltd., will be advanced to $110. On that date fifty thousand letters will be mailed to a selected list of names covering the entire Dominion of Canada.

On Monday of the week following, we will begin running a series of advertisements in the daily papers of every city in Canada, from Charlottetown, Prince Edward ments will run for six days, and will contain, substantially, the same information that was published in the advertisements printed in the Edmonton papers during the months of May and June.

Our circular letter to the public will state that 2,500 shares, or $250,000 of the stock is then offered to the public at $110 for a period of thirty days only, at which time the price will again be advanced to $120.

As has been repeatedly shown in the advertisements of this Company, the book value of the Edmonton Portland Cement Shares will be about $200 when the plant is in operation, and we propose to begin a systematic campaign of slowly advancing the price of these shares with the purpose of bringing them to $150 within the next six months.

Canada's great industrial, has been received by the public

Pays High Tribute To Sir Wilfrid

Earl Grey Tells Londoners of Ex-Premier's Sincerity—Says Canadians Scented Danger to Dominion in Reciprocity Pact—Former Governor-General Is Banqueted

London, Oct. 25.—The royal colonial institute last night banqueted Earl Grey, former governor-general of Canada, Hon. Lewis Harcourt, colonial secretary, president, and at the top table were, among others Earl Minto, Sir J. Brien Edwards, the Duke of Marlborough, Earl Carlisle, Hon. Arthur Balfour, Earl Darnley and Earl Bessy. The general body of the guests included practically all the leading men in London and Canadian circles and the guests were so great that many of the guests were forced to dine in the ante-room.

The total company comprised nearly 300. Mr. Harcourt, proposing Earl Grey's health, said that His Excellency's departure from Canada coincided with Sir Wilfrid Laurier's resignation of the premiership. Mr. Harcourt remarked that it was quite true that there was no assembly of Englishmen who wouldn't want at this moment to pay a tribute to that distinguished patriot, minister and statesman, but that the services rendered for so many years to the progress and prosperity of the Dominion, to which he devoted his intellect and energies. No divergence of views upon his latest policy can detract from the warmth with which he felt for the achievement of his past career. (Cheers.)

Turning to the subject of Earl Grey's return, the colonial secretary said that it was no reflection upon his able and distinguished successor, but that Canada would gladly have seen Earl Grey's governorship indefinitely prolonged. He also quoted many administrative acts for the strengthening and solidifying and even the extending of the Dominion during Earl Grey's term of office. During the last few years, the Canadian government had been in close touch with Washington and the British ambassador at Washington and through him had negotiated a series of treaties and arrangements of the highest possible value to the amicable relations between Canada and the United States. "I am not referring at this moment," added Mr. Harcourt, "and I am sure that the recent reciprocity proposals and I don't think in my official position that any advantage could be gained by discussing these circumstances. I had in mind other agreements which, in the public estimation had been overshadowed by these proposals. Practically every outstanding question between Canada and the United States has either been settled or placed in the way of settlement."

The speaker then proceeded to say that His Excellency had witnessed and assisted in the advancement of the naval and military protective forces of Canada. His governorship had witnessed perhaps the greatest and most rapid extension of commercial and agricultural prosperity ever recorded in Canada's history and in conclusion, Mr. Harcourt referred to the charm and ability displayed by Lady Grey and said: "We welcome Earl Grey back as a great governor, a good fellow and a true friend."

Earl Grey's Response.
On rising to respond, Earl Grey was accorded a rousing reception. Alluding to his welcome, he said: "It is a great reward for seven years' constant effort to serve Canada and the crown and I hardly think that such a reward is deserved when the conditions of my governorship are considered. I have said more than once, I believe, that I have been privileged to occupy the most pleasant billet in the whole Empire and it's no ordinary privilege to live in an atmosphere of unalloyed optimism and continued new development."

In allusion to the humorous remark of Mr. Harcourt, Earl Grey said: "It is quite true that he and I have differed only in opinion and I never recollect that during the 25 years I have been connected with him that he has made any speech with which I so heartily agree as that which he has just concluded." (Laughter.)

CELESTIAL EMPIRE ON THE VERGE OF BANKRUPTCY

area of the uprising, disheartening the government and giving new confidence to the revolutionary leaders. Sun was regarded as a government stronghold.

Consular reports from Kin Kiang say the people on the evening of October 24 burned the Taotais Yamen and declared in favor of the rebels. The Imperial troops made no serious resistance.

Wants Reinforcements.

General Yin Tehang who commands the government forces still remains at Sun Yang Chow. He demands reinforcements before taking the offensive as he learned according to his report to the administration here that the rebels are supplied abundantly with artillery.

A steamer from Tehang crowded with Chinese reached Wu Chang yesterday under a heavy guard.

A message from Hankow says the rebels have advanced to a point eight miles north of that city near where the Imperialists in unascertained numbers are entrenched.

One of the latest messages from Sun says the rebels are making overtures to the Mohammedans in the province of Kan Su who have been in open rebellion since August, and the sender of the message believes the two revolutionary parties will join forces.

Abandoned to Soldiers.

Kai Feng in the province of Ho Nan is in a serious position because the local officials practically have abandoned the whole place to the soldiers.

It is officially reported that no news has been received from the tenth division which left China Wang Tao Chi Li by steamer on October 17 for Hankow. News are entertained for the loyalty of the garrison at Kiang Yse, a strong fort on the lower Yang Tse. There is no information here as to the whereabouts of Admiral Shieh's gunboats.

Firing Near Hankow.

London, Oct. 25.—A special from Peking dated this evening says that Monday there was continuous firing and skirmishing by the rebels and Imperialists near Hankow. The insurgents displayed bold tactics and engaged the Imperialists at many points.

Meanwhile, says the correspondent, the northern army is pushing its way to the south, advancing with caution and clearing the ground in front successively with artillery. The remainder of the government forces are fighting without any regard to order or method.

Are Rearing Shanghai.

Shanghai, China, Oct. 25.—The capture of Chang Chien, by revolutionists, was announced in dispatches which reached this city shortly after noon. From a strategic point of view, this city should prove of great value to the rebels. It is the junction of the Kai Feng and Peking railroads, and is located 250 miles north of Hankow. Its capture apparently cuts off from Peking all Imperial troops now gathered around Hankow and Wu Chang. The Day's News, from Lower Yang Tse valley was all discouraging to the government. With Kin Kiang in undisputed possession of the rebels, the Imperial fleet has retreated out down the river, some of the vessels being reported as far eastward as Wu Hie. Conditions are ominous not only in Wu Hie, but also in Nanking. Most of Manchou of fields have left these two cities and are crowding into Shanghai where every hotel is already filled with refugees. The Taotai of Shanghai today became so alarmed over the possibility of secession of the native city to the rebels that he removed his household to foreign settlement. The Taotai of Nanking has also put himself under the same protection.

The city of Su Chow is in a panic, owing to revolutionary threats of 50,000 weavers, whose wages have been unpaid for a long time. Revolutionary agents here announced that the insurgents expect to establish their headquarters at Kin Kiang, which will probably be the revolutionary capital. This probable attitude of Yu An Shu, whose "Lame Foot" prevented the action of the government commission to put down the revolution is a subject of interest here. Yu An is everywhere regarded as a man of the hour in China. It is hinted here that he may be induced to give the rebel cause his active support against the Manchou garrison. Although Manchou officials here continue to give out false news of state affairs.
